

Alexey Li

ServiceNow consultant

I have developed a deep interest in the field of IT over the years and I am currently working for a startup and want to grow like a professional to focus on ServiceNow consulting/developing as my area of expertise. Through this experience, I have honed my skills in teamwork, problem-solving, time management, and maintaining a high level of resilience in stressful situations. I am driven by my proactive approach and an insatiable curiosity to learn, which constantly fuels my desire to enhance my efficiency on a daily basis.
